

Staying Put is looking for committed individuals to continue our vital work to support survivors of domestic and sexual abuse at the point of crisis.

We value volunteers support, dedication and appreciate the contribution they make to our service delivery. We believe our volunteers bring experience, compassion, enthusiasm and commitment to our service provision.

Volunteer contribution makes a huge difference when you offer your services to survivors of abuse. Feedback we have received demonstrates the dedication volunteers have and the passion to make a positive difference to lives. Staying Put have many opportunities for volunteers across our services.

We aim to recruit volunteers in the following areas:

- Supporting our One Front Door Helpline
- Supporting Community IDVAS/ISVAS with clients' needs
- Supporting Refuge staff across all our Safe Accommodation sites
- Supporting our centrally based Business Support team, to develop admin skills
- Supporting us to deliver outcome focussed recovery and resilience groups

The support and development we offer our volunteers

- Opportunities to work with staff and service users
 - Training and support
- An opportunity for development and career growth
 - Volunteers receive travel expenses

Staying Put aim to make a difference for volunteers, enabling them to enhance their people skills and learn new support skills.

Staying Put expectation from our volunteers

- A minimum commitment of at least three-six months, we welcome volunteers who can stay for longer
 - A commitment to our values
 - To adhere to the Code of Conduct at all times

Essential

- . Enhanced DBS Satisfactory Check
- . Able to understand complex information
- . Computer Literate and Confident
- . Evidence of applying safeguarding principles
- . Understanding the ethos of Staying Put

Desirable

- . Experience of delivery support/interventions to individuals/families in crisis
 - . providing emotional/befriending support

If you have any questions about volunteering at Staying Put

Email: volunteer@stayingput.uk.net

We are committed to quality, equality and diversity. Our recruitment and selection procedures reflect this commitment which applies to both volunteers and paid staff.

We would love to hear and work with you

Our values are - People, Excellence, Integrity and Change