About Staying Put

Introduction from our Chief Executive

Staying Put has been transforming lives for over 24 years, rebuilding families and providing vital support to those affected by domestic abuse and sexual violence. From our humble beginnings, we have grown into one of the most respected and specialised service providers in the North of England.

As part of Bradford Survive & Thrive, alongside Family Action and WomenCentre, we place survivors at the heart of everything we do. Our innovative, trauma-informed services primarily support women and children across the Bradford district and more recently across West Yorkshire.

We are committed to continuously improving the survivor experience, ensuring that everyone accessing our services feels safe, supported, and empowered. This is made possible by our fantastic, dedicated staff team and an organisational culture driven by passion, care and excellence both for the people we serve and for our colleagues.

Our ethos

We proudly adopt a feminist approach to our work. We acknowledge that women and girls face discrimination due to their gender, and we reject the ideology that women are worth less than men

Our Vision

Our vision is to live in a world free from domestic abuse and sexual violence, to be the change and inspire others to follow our example

Our Mission

Our mission is to lead the way in quality service provision to victims of domestic abuse and sexual violence, to remove the barriers that prevent people from speaking out and seeking help. We listen to the voices of survivors, believe in them and act to protect them.

Our community team supports victims and survivors, across diverse communities, at all risk levels. With a team of qualified IDVAs, ISVAs, DA Support Workers & specialist practitioners we offer support and safety planning through a holistic pathway to help individuals manage their situation from crisis to recovery.

In addition, we have a dedicated Early Intervention and Prevention team. This team works across various settings, including in education establishments post Key Stage 4 to raise awareness, knowledge and understanding of violence against women and girls, and offers groupwork to women of all ages to empower them to move forward after experiencing domestic abuse.

Accommodation Team

Covering 4 refuges and a portfolio of dispersed properties across Bradford and Keighley, the Accommodation Team comprises of IDVAs, DA Support Workers, Children's Support Workers, a Mental Health Advocate and ICT Skills Trainer.

Our team deliver tailored, trauma-informed support to residents, focussing on safety, wellbeing and independence. By co-creating risk management, safety plans and support packages, we safeguard families while promoting empowerment. Using a whole family approach, we ensure children and young people are supported and heard.

About the role

The role of Fundraiser at Staying Put will focus on digital campaigns and organising and promoting fundraising events to generate new income streams for the charity. Reporting to the Head of Finance and Corporate Services, the Fundraiser works for the success of our overall strategic goal and to enable us to generate income above our core funding streams.

This role will work closely with the Digital Communications Manager and Service Managers to develop, lead and achieve buy-in on all campaigns and events.

The Fundraiser will build on relationships with existing donors and corporate sponsors and establish further networks of supporters, raising the profile of Staying Put and securing further funding.

This role will be involved in identifying and submitting applications for prizes and awards, preparing funding proposals, helping to shape the fundraising strategic plan and reporting on campaigns.

Part time, 18.75 hours per week (over 3 days),
£30,900 FTE per annum

About you

We are looking for someone with significant experience in a similar fundraising role who has proven knowledge and examples of running and evaluating digital fundraising campaigns. Knowledge of domestic abuse and sexual violence, the impact it has on victims and issues they face, would be an advantage.

Our ideal candidate will have strong interpersonal skills, with the ability to persuade, influence and engage with new and existing supporters of Staying Put.

As well as experience of working in the charity sector, we need someone who is detail-oriented, has strong time management and organisational skills and can manage multiple projects and deadlines.

We are looking for a passionate and enthusiastic fundraiser who can generate, develop and run fun and interesting campaigns and events that will create buy-in across a range of audiences.

Within this role you will need to be able to work with initiative, have a high level of self motivation with a "can-do" attitude but who can recognise, work with and develop their strengths within a team.

Our ideal candidate will be a self-starter, excellent communicator and be able to problem solve in dynamic situations with a creative approach to income generation.

We offer a competitive salary of £ 30,900 FTE per annum & an extensive benefits package.

What our staff say

Employee Wellbeing

Staying Put are proud to be members of the Employers Domestic Abuse Covenant (EDAC). This is a pledge by businesses to support women affected by abuse to enter or re-enter the workplace.

Employers are invited to sign the covenant and identify opportunities within their businesses for women seeking sustainable employment opportunities.

“Many people who leave abusive relationships face an uncertain financial future and as an understanding, compassionate and supportive employer, we can further assist survivors to gain their independence through employment so that they can rebuild their lives and live safely.” Yasmin Khan, Staying Put CEO.

We often find that candidates have lived experience and want to use what they have gone through to “give back”. We support colleagues by offering line manager support, regular supervision, external clinical supervision, peer support, an Employee Assistance Programme and a financial wellbeing benefit.

We are committed to ensuring positive mental health whilst at work and take our duty of care towards our employees seriously. Staying Put have signed up to the Mental Health at Work Commitment so have pledged to achieving better mental health outcomes and longer-term positive impacts on our employee’s wellbeing.

We want everyone who works here to feel they can be open about maintaining positive mental wellbeing or can ask for support if they need it.
